

'Exquisite phrasing and uncommonly intelligent lyric reading ... a first-rate vocalist.'

Chicago Tribune music critic Howard Reich

Blue Moon Music presents:

Grammy-nominated vocalist
Margaret Carlson

Expose your students to the professional musicianship of Margaret Carlson. Carlson, a Grammy nominated vocalist, can present a concert, clinic, or guest with your choir or jazz band.

Margaret Carlson has been compared to Maureen McGovern and Julie Andrews. With her elegant musical style and on-stage presence, she has won raves from audiences and critics alike.

Have Margaret reinforce what you have been telling your students all along. Your students can also learn some of Margaret's own vocal methods, learned during her 20 years as a professional musician, and incorporate them into their own styles. She will also share her valuable insights into the basics of getting started in the music business.

Here are some comments from music educators....

"Margaret Carlson is an absolute delight to listen to and to work with. Her intuitive musicianship seems to grow daily...impeccable pitch, clever phrasing. 5 Stars for Margaret Carlson in all categories."

Frank Mantooth
Pianist/Arranger

"You handle your voice immaculately -- always in seemingly perfect control even on the "up" things, where so many singers tend to lose whatever lyricism they may have, you demonstrate that, whatever the tempo, the voice needs to know that it needs to be a Bel Canto. You embody that concept, even when you are scatting. Also -- impeccable intonation!!!!!! So often, that is not the case, even in unexpected places (high places, that is)."

Ray Davidson
Tyler, Texas, Big Band

"I want to thank you again for the your wonderful clinic and concert at Rock Valley College. I continually hear comments from those who heard you, complimenting you on your clinic presentation, as well as the tremendous control of your voice. Both jazz ensembles enjoyed performing with you and look forward to another concert with you."

Ken Stein
Director, Rock Valley College Jazz Ensembles
